- CRU CLASSE

Rosé wine has come into fashion in the last three years and is rapidly gaining immense popularity, shows incredible sales growth in France and huge export requests to the USA, South-east Asia, Japan and North-western Europe.

In 2024, Provence's rosé popularity has reached new world capitals. Top hotels from Hong Kong to Tokyo and from New York to Dubai, modern restaurants from Beijing to Brussels and prestigious clubs and bars from Saint-Tropez to Aruba strive to offer their clientele the legendary rosé wines of Provence.

But the main phenomenon behind Rosé's popularity is its versatility - it can be both a prestigious Cru Classé offered on a snow-white tablecloth in a Michelin-starred restaurant, or it can delight friends at a table in a small café after work.

A glass of simple rosé on the rocks is the best drink on a hot day, a symbol of the charm of the carefree South: relaxation and well-being. With every sip, you find yourself by the sea.

From the beaches of Saint-Tropez to the heart of the Var Valley, the most popular Provençal vineyards of the Golden Triangle are presenting their rosé wines in Central and North-Eastern Europe this season.

Discover the new opportunity to offer your clientele the best quality product at attractive and competitive prices.

Rosé is born in Provence.

Unique cépages like Tibouren, Mourvèdre, Cinsault, Rolle and Grenache are cultivated on special sandy soils, under the hot Mediterranean sun and fresh sea breeze, absorbing the aromas of pines and cypresses.

Harvested at night for maximum flavor preservation, the grapes are processed inside the coolness of the ancient cellars and are blended in secret proportions creating the best rosé wines to please the vast audience with its light and refined taste.

On their magical land, wine-makers of Provence create both sophisticated Cru Classés, and light cheerful everyday wines.

For the comfort of your choice, 24 unique wines are subdivided into 4 collections.

Find what is needed: elite and nobles wine, or light and inexpensive rosés meant for small cafes, instantly creating positive atmosphere for anyone who takes a glass of rosé in their hand.
